

Welcome to our April Nannup Truffle Growers Cooperative Newsletter!

Hello to our Truffle Lovers - well what a year 2020 is proving to be - and not in the way we anticipated! Amidst the chaos that is the 'new normal' for now, we're continuing with hard work on the farm and can reassure you all that it's business as usual. The trees are being well looked after and still growing strong, they're forming a wonderful shape and have strong trunks. Top left is the French Oaks looking really healthy and bushy, the others are the English Oaks which are really stretching up - the tallest is over 3m in height!

The dam levels are low following the Summer period, which isn't out of the ordinary, there's still plenty of water to go around!

As we approach Truffle season, we are monitoring the situation as to being able to hold our annual Truffle Dinners and we will keep you updated as the Government advice changes.
